

Gerry Solomon

Transportation Policy Analyst

Office of the Secretary at the U.S. Department of Transportation

Gerry Solomon is currently a Transportation Policy Analyst in the Office of the Secretary at the U.S. Department of Transportation. He has been in the Office of the Secretary since 2016 and previously served as Senior Advisor to the Assistant Secretary for Transportation Policy, Acting Director of the Office of Policy, and Deputy Director of the Office of Policy Development, Strategic Planning, and Performance. While there he established the Department’s Infrastructure Permitting Improvement Center (IPIC) and managed the Federal Permitting Dashboard for the Department.

Prior to joining the Office of the Secretary, Gerry was with FHWA for 10 years, and served as Director of the Office of Real Estate Services and Director of the Office of Project Development and Environmental Review.

Gerry came to the Department of Transportation after approximately 20 years with the state of Massachusetts, holding program and legal positions with the Massachusetts Highway Department and the Massachusetts Division of Capital Planning and Operation.

Gerry holds a MPA Degree from Suffolk University in Boston, MA, JD Degree from the University of Miami in Coral Gables, FL, and BA Degree from the University of Massachusetts in Amherst, MA.

